

Christa Dürscheid

Christa Dürscheid is full professor of German Linguistics at the University of Zurich and co-director of the D-A-CH research project Variational Pragmatics of German – Comparing Communicative Patterns. Her research focuses on variationist linguistics, digital communication, and grapholinguistics. Her recent books are: “Schreiben digital. Wie das Internet unsere Alltagskommunikation verändert” (2016, co-authored with Karina Frick), “Standardsprache und Variation” (2019, co-authored with Jan Georg Schneider), and “Writing systems and their use. An overview of grapholinguistics (2022, co-authored with Dimitrios Meletis).