

Ulrike Gut

Ulrike Gut obtained degrees in psychology, English and linguistics from the University of Mannheim and Cambridge University. She currently holds the Chair for English Linguistics at the University of Münster. Her main research interests include phonetics/phonology and pragmatics in varieties of English, especially Nigerian and Scottish English, second and third language acquisition and corpus linguistics.